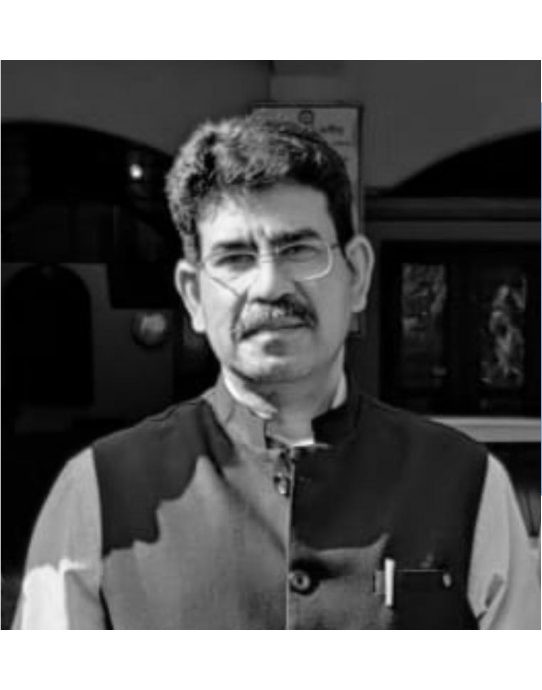
K-CIAN

The Campus Bulletin



From the desk of the Principal

I am hugely delighted to present yet another issue of K-CIAN for the readers. K-CIAN reflects the resilience and vitality of our institution.

The highlight of last year was definitely our zeal to overcome all the hindrances created by the pandemic and its related restrictions and move on. The fight between man and microbes on Earth has been a recurring one since long back. Education being an essential and integral component of human society cannot be compromised however big may be the hindrances. As a Unit, we ensured like others that education would continue unabated and, in this regard, our own System Analysts rendered the best possible help without outsourcing.

The year began on a very positive note as we could organize the NEC, Govt. of India sponsored 2-Day National Seminar on 'Education and Sustainable Development: Issues and Challenges in context to North East India' on 8 and 9 January 2021. That all business models must take into account the regional environmental framework in their operational domain was one of the major outcomes of the deliberations.

The prestigious India Today Survey of 2021 placed K. C. Das Commerce College at the 102nd Rank amongst all Commerce Colleges of the country while in Assam, it was placed at the top. This ranking might give us some satisfaction considering the operational dynamics of the Institution but surely challenges us to do more.

3rd of August 2021 was indeed a red-letter day of the institution when foundation stone of the new G+4 academic building was laid down. On behalf of all the stakeholders of the Institution I express my deep gratitude to the Higher Education Department, Government of Assam and State PWD for all the support.

Developing our own Learning Management Software (LMS) without outsourcing and getting it successfully operational was another feat of the year. The students also accepted the new system. Using the new ERP for bulk of the official transaction has been another effort and step towards successful installation of green office.

On the academic front it was seen that the students have worked very hard to adjust to the new order of the day and yet come out with flying colours. The College meanwhile facilitated all the students who desired to hone their co-curricular talents in between. Teachers also engaged themselves in many academic activities while is much appreciable. The first activity of our Community Research and Development Cell was also completed during this year. Likewise, the following pages reflect all the activities undertaken by the College in the last year.

Despite all the hindrances, we are making efforts to move ahead. The road ahead is tough but we don't have any other option too. The new National Education Policy will put into operation soon. As an Institution, one of the biggest challenges in the coming years would be not only to stay relevant in that context but also, excel. I have faith on the abilities of our team. With little support from the authorities, we will do much better. I am hopeful…...

With best wishes,

Hrishikesh Baruah
